In preparing and presenting the Budget items in our report this year, we have endeavored to break them down as much as possible and thereby show the voters and tax payers as clearly as possible the amount of money each department has had to spend during 1940 and its source, also the amount it has expended. You will note we have added an extra column this year to show any unexpended balance. The fourth column shows the amounts asked for by the Departments for 1941 and the last column shows the amounts recommended by the Finance Committee.

We have gone over the amounts asked for very carefully with each department or the heads under whose jurisdiction they belong and feel that the estimates as a whole are reasonable. There are some instances where increases are asked for but in such cases we feel they are justifiable.

Due to the stand taken by Henry F. Long, Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation, it is necessary for the Town to take immediate steps to foreclose the rights of redemption in tax titles and move the property representing tax titles into tax paying hands or into the name of the Town. To prepare and carry out these proceedings, it is going to require a great deal of work and considerable expense, as some of these cases are of long standing. We are advised by Mr. Long if we do not provide for this work in our appropriations this Spring, his Department will institute proceedings on these cases in the name of the Treasurer and the expense will be assessed to the Town.

In order to carry out this work the Assessors, Treasurer and Town Collector will have to incur additional expense to the Town and we have therefore set up under each of these Departments a "Special Tax Title Account", in the Budget, the amount they estimate will be required by them this year for this work. In this manner we will be able to tell what this costs us over the period of time necessary to clean it up.

In our conference with the Water Commissioners this year, as for several years past, they brought up the question of free water which they are supplying the Town Departments and for which they receive no credit whatever. We feel sure you will agree it is not fair that their Department should be penalized in this manner. We feel that each Department should stand its own expense and reflect its own cost to the Town. With this thought in mind, we suggested that they meter the schools, town hall and library, also make a hydrant charge to the Fire Department. By doing this they can bill the departments for the water consumed by them. We have accordingly recommended in the budget of the departments the necessary amount to take care of these water bills and the Assessors will use this as an estimated receipt, thereby offsetting the appropriation so that there will be no increase, because of the charge, in the Tax rate, but each Department will show its true cost. We are further advised by the Water Department, besides agreeing to this, that they will begin placing meters in those places now unmetered. We feel that this is very important and have recommended a special "New Meter" appropriation of five hundred dollars ($500.00) which will be sufficient to install about 50 new meters this year. By doing this each year the Town will be fully metered in about four years. We think that this is a step in the right direction and cannot too strongly urge your support in the matter. The School Committee is agreeable to this plan and we are advised by a member of the Trustees of the Library that their appropriation will be sufficient, without any addition, to take care of it this year.

The Budget as a whole reflects an increase over the amount appropriated last year for the Budget of approximately $275.00 which we feel is justifiable but we are confronted this year with several articles each calling for a considerable amount and we have felt that it was necessary for us to disapprove a great many of them.

We have approved only those articles which we feel would be to the Town's best interest to vote this year. The appropriation necessary to cover these articles would be $16,450.00 which if added to the Budget as recommended would make a total appropriation of $243,399.07. This is an increase over the total amount raised at the March Town Meeting last year of approximately five thousand dollars.

We wish to thank the Town Officers and Departments for their co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

Report of the Board of Selectmen

The year 1941 has created a number of new problems in municipal administration. Unsettled conditions in the world have moved through successive stages until now they affect the lives of every citizen in the community, and the full extent of their effect in the immediate future cannot be predicted with certainty.

Army Training

One of the first stages was the decision of the federal government to expand the armed forces of the nation. To this end, many young men in increasing number were called into training. In December a declaration of war by the Axis powers against the United States brought our country into the world conflict. Indications are that the war will produce many new phases of activities to be handled during the years ahead.

The Adjutant General requested the board to consider the question of the organization of a Company of Home Guard Reserves in this town. We did not consider this necessary at the time.

Civilian Defense

Early in 1940 the march of events indicated the necessity for a civilian organization to provide the proper safeguard for homes and life in the community during the emergency. Legislation was enacted, creating the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety. The purpose of this act was to organize and train citizens in the tasks considered essential for home defense. The organization is not military in any sense, its functions being the cooperative protection of life and property within the sphere of civilians.

Each municipality has a committee organized on the plan outlined by the State committee. In June, Col. P. M. Churchill was named Chairman of the East Bridgewater Committee on Public Safety by Gov. Leverett Saltonstall.

His years of activity in the military service were an important asset in the organization of the committee. Recognizing the impending danger, the full cooperation of the board was given to Col. Churchill in his organization work.

The local committee has organized the citizens in a most commendable manner. A large number of patriotic citizens have most willingly volunteered for service in branches of the defense work and have faithfully attended classes and schools in an effort to be better able to serve through a more adequate preparation. All our services have been completely organized and are now ready to function in an emergency. Tests were held to determine the efficiency of the organization and to familiarize the volunteers with the actual workings of civilian defense. Only a limited fund was available for the work done in 1941, but the results were satisfactory. In December, Col. P. M. Churchill resigned as Chairman of the Committee on Public Safety to accept a position with the State Committee. Michael J. McCarthy was named to serve as chairman of the committee.

For the year 1942 the board will ask for an appropriation which it estimates will be required to carry on the work. Conditions beyond our control make it impossible to foresee possible expenditures which we may be called on to make this year. Legislation passed at the special session of the General Court in January 1942, while not yet available for reading, indicate that certain of the acts passed may cause an increase in the expenditures of some departments this year.

Adjustment of Payments

The policy of several departments of submitting bills of one fiscal year for payment as bills of the following fiscal year has been corrected. To provide funds for those departments to rectify this condition, this year, transfers were asked in special town meetings. Funds were granted to provide an opportunity to adjust this matter and hereafter all bills of the current fiscal year will be paid from the appropriation of that year. The general financial condition we regard as excellent. Tax collections have been efficiently made and this has made available free cash in the treasury which gives the town a desirable financial position and provides fluid funds which may be used to advantage by the town. At the end of the 1941 fiscal year there were no outstanding notes in anticipation of revenue. A tax title loan made in 1941 to help keep the tax rate down was also liquidated.

Chapter 90

The long range plan for the reconstruction of Plymouth Street, under Chapter 90, was completed in 1941 with the construction of a section southeasterly from the A. R. Parker dairy to near the junction of Plymouth and Pond Streets, part of which is over a new layout and eliminates former dangerous curves on this highway. No recommendations are being made for Chapter 90 construction for 1942, owing to the national emergency. However, in compliance with a request of the State Department of Public Works, a five-year highway construction program has been submitted to the department which in cooperation with federal agencies is planning for post-war work.

The board recommends that, if Chapter 90 maintenance funds are available in 1942, the town appropriate the sum of one thousand dollars for resurfacing of certain streets built under Chapter 90. Central street from the railroad crossing to the junction with Plymouth street, and a part of Whitman street, are in need of surface treatment.

Capital Outlays

For the period of the national emergency it is desirable that tax rate increases be averted if possible. Ample provisions should be made for the normal functions of the town government by its various departments. In addition, we may be called on for special appropriations due to the national emergency. However, no capital outlays for new projects should be undertaken during the period of the emergency, if they can be avoided.

W. P. A.

From January to May the W. P. A. program was continued here with the extension of water mains being carried on. In May, a request was received that workers on projects here be transferred to defense projects, and this was done, and employment is being continued for these men on defense work. No appropriation will be necessary for W. P. A. this year.

Rationing

Rationing, while a function of the federal government, will operate through a local board. This board is now in existence. Its members are Charles W. Waterman, chairman; Forest W. Cousins, and Robert Inglee. Originally set up to administer automobile tire rationing, it is expected that in the immediate future several other commodities may be added to the list of articles to be rationed by the board. We feel, that before the end of the current fiscal year, this board may be required to maintain a full time office with clerical help. No plans have been made as yet for an appropriation for the use of this board. Decision is being held, pending developments which should indicate more definitely just what will be needed.

Police and Fire Departments

We feel that special mention should be made of the efficient work of the heads of the police and fire departments in the management of their departments during the year. In addition to handling the regular work of the police department, George E. Mayall, Chief of Police, has been active in aiding with the development of the public safety program. With the approval of the board he has attended special courses on public safety of the State Department of Education and the F B I. He has efficiently organized and trained the auxiliary police force. His services have been sought by several other towns to assist them in this work.

The fire department has reached a desirable peak of efficiency. The addition of a new motorized triple combination 500-gallon pumper, assigned as Engine 2 to the Elmwood station, made during the year, provides an added degree of safety. The engineers and men of the companies have been very loyal to their duty. Auxiliary firemen are being trained for the national emergency. A number of men of the department continued their training at the University Extension course at Brockton during the year.

The department is well equipped, except in the matter of hose, and owing to general conditions we recommend that this year funds be provided for the purchase of 1000 feet of 2½-inch fire hose.

Veterans' Graves

Through a W.P.A. project a list of graves of veterans of all wars, buried in cemeteries in town, was compiled. We are having the list printed in the town report this year, as we feel that by doing so it will be both informative and readily available to all interested in keeping the list as a permanent record.

Conclusions

The period of the national emergency, with the grim struggle to win the war by the democratic powers, may be longer than anticipated. We will be called on to make many sacrifices and to undergo some hardships. We feel certain that citizens of our community will answer every call for the support or aid of activities designed to win the war.

A special division of the Committee on Public Safety has been created to compile and maintain a list of citizens of our town who enter the armed forces.

A fine spirit of cooperation has been maintained by town officers and townspeople in carrying on the functions of the municipality during 1941.

Report of Spanish-American War Memorial Committee

At the annual town meeting in 1941 a motion was passed, by unanimous vote, authorizing the appointment of a committee to take charge of the erection and dedication of a suitable memorial to residents of the town who served in the Spanish - American War. The motion also included instruction that the memorial should be placed in front of the Town Hall.

Shortly after the appointment of the committee, by the town meeting moderator, a meeting was held for the purpose of organization.

The committee after a preliminary survey decided that the amount of the appropriation available would permit the erection of a memorial using a suitable field boulder to which a bronze marker would be attached. Some changes in the shrubbery also would be necessary.

An extensive search was conducted in various parts of the town for a suitable boulder. The boulder which seemed most suited was found on the property of Ralph A. Belcher, 676 Summer street. Mr. Belcher generously contributed the boulder for the memorial purposes.

The memorial was dedicated with appropriate exercises on Sunday, May 25, 1941. Spanish War veterans, of camps in surrounding towns, were guests. A parade of veteran and patriotic organizations was held prior to the dedicatory exercises. Mr. J. Frank Currie was chief marshal of the parade. A copy of the dedicatory exercises is included with the report.

Listed in the records of the Adjutant General's Office of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as residents of the Town of East Bridgewater who served during the Spanish-American War are the following:

Report of the Inspector of Animals

To the Board of Selectmen and Citizens of East Bridgewater:

During the annual inspection of 1941 I visited the stables on 71 premises, inspected 993 cows, 150 head of young stock, 36 bulls, 32 swine, 26 goats, 3 steers and 1 sheep.

I have investigated and reported on 16 tuberculin reactors.

Since the first of the year 12 dog bites were reported and these animals were quarantined for the legal period. I also quarantined 11 dogs in a neighborhood that was threatened by Rabbie. During the year I have removed the heads of 3 dogs who died while under quarantine for suspected Rabbies and sent these heads to the Harvard Medical School for diagnosis.

I have quarantined a herd of 54 head for mange.

School Survey Committee Report

To the Citizens of the Town of East Bridgewater:

In its survey the committee has considered the present school enrollment, birth rate and population trends, and also the present housing facilities of school buildings in town. Consideration has also been given to the ability of the town to provide for any expansion of school accommodations.

From the result of this survey, the committee recommends that whereas it finds that overcrowding exists at the Allen School building, it considers that some immediate steps should be taken to relieve this congestion and provide adequate room for the pupils at this school.

It is believed that this can best be accomplished by the construction of a two room addition at the Allen School. Incidental to the construction work, certain repairs and improvements should also be made. If these things are done, it appears that the Allen school building can be continued for many years as a satisfactory unit of the school system.

From our estimates and figures available, we believe that the town should appropriate twelve thousand dollars for this work. This is based on an estimated cost of ten thousand dollars for the construction of the two room addition, six hundred dollars for a fire escape, seven hundred and fifty dollars for architects fees, and six hundred and fifty dollars for contingencies.

In view of the recommended continuation of the use of the Allen school building and the fact that alterations are to be made, it appears that certain repairs and improvements will have to be undertaken. First those to meet requirements of the state building laws, these include the fire-proofing of staircases at entrances and exits, and those leading to the second floor. It also appears desirable to reshingle the existing structure with a fire resisting shingle for the added safety of the pupils and the increased efficiency of the heating system. The general condition of the exterior of the building indicates that this work is a necessity. The estimated cost of the proposed improvements is two thousand dollars.

The committee has been informed that there is available sufficient furniture and classroom equipment to furnish the proposed two room addition.

Some features of the Allen school building afford an opportunity to provide the needed additional room capacity at a minimum of cost. The heating plant at this school is adequate to care for the additional rooms without increase of the boiler capacity, and the toilet facilities are ample to care for the enrollment which this building might have at any time.

If the report of the committee should be accepted by the town, it would involve a substantial appropriation, which would be a question related to the general fiscal policy of the town, and for this purpose the committee has made known its recommendations to the selectmen with the suggestion that the proper articles be prepared and inserted in a warrant for a special town meeting, covering the financing of matters recommended in the report of the committee.

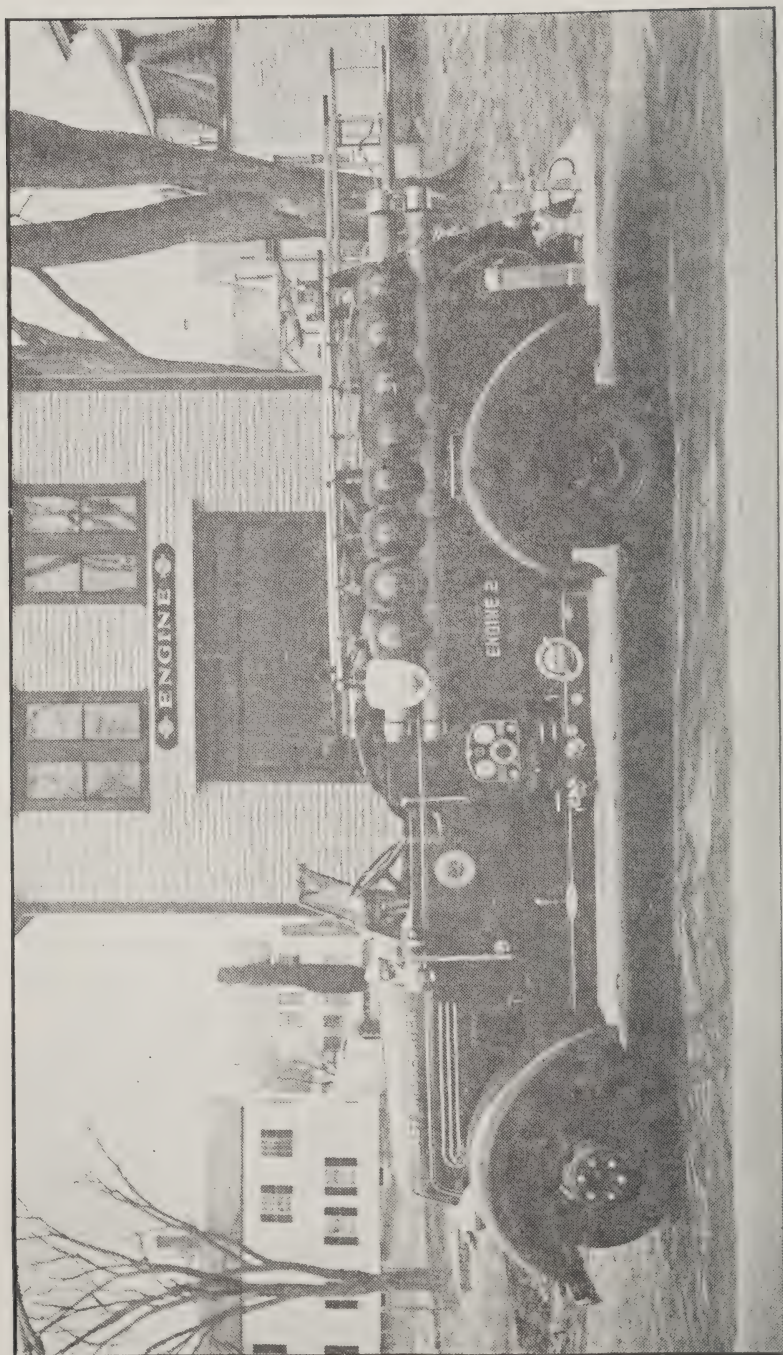

The committee recommends that if this programme is to be undertaken, that the appropriation should be made immediately, and the necessary preliminary engineering work, contract award and other matters completed before the close of the schools for the summer vacation, in order that if possible, the construction could be completed before the opening of the fall term in September 1941.

The matter of the use for school purposes of any of the so-called outside school buildings has been considered by the committee. We do not consider such a recommendation wise even as a temporary policy. The expenditure necessary for improvements appears to be prohibitive in view of the fact that the use of these remodeled quarters would be merely temporary. Without the installation of such improvements these buildings ought not to be used for school purposes.

It is further recommended, that as it appears to be little likelihood that these buildings will ever again be used for school purposes, that the school committee should not retain management of them as unused buildings, but that they should indicate that they have no further use for them as school houses, and turn them over to the town for disposition.

Report of Fire Truck Committee

In pursuance of the vote of the Town, the Selectmen and Fire Engineers organized for the purpose of buying a new triple combination fire engine for the Elmwood Station. At the organization meeting, Michael J. McCarthy was elected chairman, and Edmund W. Nutter, clerk.

Chief Frank Dickinson of Brockton was consulted by the Committee and made many valuable suggestions as to the type of pump and equipment that would be best suited for the Town.

Following this, the Committee then proceeded to interview representatives of several Fire Engine Companies, who explained the various features of their particular machines. The Committee also traveled to several of the nearby towns to actually see the different engines in operation.

In this way, every fire engine considered by the Committee was actually seen by members of the Committee at no expense to the Town.

After talking with the Company representatives and seeing the various engines, the Committee had several meetings at which a complete set of specifications for a Motorized Triple Combination Pumping Engine were drawn. Bids in accordance with these specifications were advertised for in the Brockton Enterprise - Times and a bid was secured from every Company which had been interviewed by the Committee. The Committee upon examining the bids voted to reject all of them and to negotiate with the Seagraves Company. At a later meeting, after carefully examining the Seagraves proposal, it was unanimously voted to sign a contract for a Motorized Triple Combination Pumping Engine with the Seagraves Company in accordance with its proposal.

The Seagraves Company, represented by Mr. Fred Alger, proceeded with the building of the Fire Engine, and the Town was most fortunate in having the Truck delivered only a short time after the date called for in the contract. In spite of the war conditions and shortages, the truck was complete in every detail with no substitutions because of the government's priority as to materials.

The Engine was tested at the Satucket River by the Fire Underwriters, before a large number of the citizens of the Town, and exceeded the requirements of the Underwriters in every detail.

Finally after a little delay, due to the failure of the new doors of the Elmwood Station to arrive, came the happy day. The Truck with appropriate ceremonies was turned over to the Fire Department by Chairman McCarthy and Chief Hennessey promptly placed it in charge of Captain Feeney of the Elmwood Station.

The Committee feels that it has obtained, for the Town of East Bridgewater, the best Fire Engine of this type that could be purchased for the money appropriated. The entire sum of $5500.00 appropriated by the Town was used for the purchase of the Engine, and no part of the appropriation was expended by the Committee for expenses.

The Committee wishes to express its appreciation for the help rendered to it by Chief Dickinson and Deputy Chief John Murphy, of the Brockton Fire Department, and to the various towns that permitted the inspection of their Engines in actual operation.

Report of the Board of Public Welfare

The Board of Public Welfare, Bureau of Old Age Assistance and Aid to Dependent Children organized with Glen Churchill, Chairman, and Maud R. Estes, Secretary.

The office personnel consists of Charles E. Merrill, Social Worker, and Miss Shirley Wixon, Clerk.

A new fire-proof filing cabinet has been added to the office equipment during the year. The vital records are now protected in this cabinet.

Welfare

During the year there have been 71 cases, involving 192 persons. Of this number, 15 cases had no settlement. Five had settlement in other cities and towns.

Of these 71 cases, 38 had aid for short periods only. In some cases the aid extended included food orders for brief periods of unemployment. In other cases, medical care only was furnished. Hospitalization was necessary for a small number to enable further earning. There were three burials.

On December 31st there were 22 cases comprising 42 persons receiving aid. Of this number all but one had settlement.

Aid to Dependent Children

There have been 21 families aided with 49 children. Four cases were closed, leaving 17 cases with 42 children on December 31st.

Old Age Assistance

During the year there have been 149 names on the pay-roll. 25 cases have been closed. 21 were added during the year. On December 31st there were 124 cases with one case pending.

W. P. A.

The total cost from the Welfare Department for the first seven months was $1,111.33.

The decrease in the welfare load made it seem advisable to discontinue contributions towards its support. Investigation revealed a very small percentage of Welfare recipients availing themselves of this aid.

The Welfare Board advised the Selectmen of their decision and since August 12th no part has been taken by the Department in the Commodity project.

Report of Forest Fire Warden

To the Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen:

Herewith is my report for the year ending Dec. 31, 1941. During the year the Department responded to 47 calls for grass and woods fires.

Equipment on hand: 1 Chevrolet truck, 12 extinguishers, 6 3-gallon pump cans, one-half carboy of acid, 1 keg of soda, 6 shovels, 4 brooms, 400 ft.  $\frac{3}{4}$ -in. hose, 50 ft. of  $1\frac{1}{4}$ -in. hose.

Appropriation for 1941	$700.00
------------------------	----------

Expended:

Pay Roll	$465.30
Equipment	53.16
Gas and Oil	14.13
Transfer to Fire Dept.	150.00
	<hr/>	682.59
Balance		<hr/> $17.41

By a legislative act, passed last year, the establishment of a forest fire patrol at certain times during the year by the town was made mandatory. The law states that the State Fire Wardens shall cause a survey to be made to determine the need for such a patrol and he shall notify the town as to the requirements. Failure on the part of the town to establish such patrol will result in the establishment of the patrol by the State Fire Warden and the cost of such patrol would be deducted from any funds due the town from the state. The patrols are to operate on days when the danger of forest fire is high. During the danger period the class of day will be broadcast by radio.

In a communication from the State Fire Warden, received on Jan. 19, 1942, he recommended that the following schedule be planned for: class 3 days, 1 man; class 4 and 5 days, 2 men. He estimated that these patrols would be required for about 20 days during the spring fire season.

I recommend that the appropriation for the Forest Fire Department be increased to one thousand dollars for the year 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

MAURICE F. HENNESSEY,

Forest Fire Warden.

Report of Board of Fire Engineers

To the Board of Selectmen—

Gentlemen:

Herewith is our report for the year ending Dec. 31, 1941.

During this year the Department responded to 54 alarms, 19 district and 35 still or telephone alarms.

We have issued 26 Garage and Filling Station permits, 27 permits for the storage of fuel oil, 2 permits to install tanks to store gasoline, 3 permits for sale of fireworks, and 7 permits for the use of incinerators.

At the Central Station there is a Maxim Triple Combination Truck of 750 gallon capacity and a Buffalo Triple Combination Ladder Truck with 200 gallon capacity.

At the Elmwood Station there is a Seagraves Triple Combination Truck of 500 gallon capacity.

The Department has 2800 ft. of double jacket 2½-in. hose and 800 ft. of double jacket 1½-in. hose.

By action of the Town Meeting, last March, funds were provided for the purchase of a motorized triple combination engine. The members of the engineers had the pleasure of serving with members of the Board of Selectmen on this committee.

The selection of the committee was a Seagraves 500 gallon triple combination pumper. The machine selected we regard as an excellent choice and a valuable addition to our fire fighting equipment. The new piece of equipment has been designated as Engine 2 and is assigned to the Elmwood station. The new engine was placed in the service with appropriate exercises.

The International truck which had been in service at the Elmwood station was not disposed of. Due to the National emergency, this truck is being held for use in emergency as an auxiliary piece of equipment, as recommended by both the selectmen and the public safety committee.

Twenty-five auxiliary firemen are being trained for volunteer auxiliary fire service as part of the air raid precaution service.

The department needs hose and recommends that at least 1000 feet of 2½-inch hose be purchased this year.

The Financial Report of the Department is herewith enclosed:

There has been a substantial increase in the work of the department, due to war activities, but the fine spirit and cooperation of the members of the Police Force has adequately met the extra demand made upon the department.

The department's gas and oil business has again been distributed among the town's gasoline stations, each one getting a month's trade.

School children have been looked after at the cross walks, either by the Chief or one of the Officers.

A Police School was inaugurated with an enrollment of over sixty men. The course of instruction was over a period of six weeks and dealt with the subject of regular police work as well as work expected of the Auxiliary Police Force who have been sworn in for the duration. Full attendance was in evidence at each class and even some of the outside towns were represented by their auxiliary chiefs. This school was under the guidance and instruction of the Chief of Police.

Plymouth County Extension Service

The Plymouth County Extension Service during 1941 has carried on its usual work of assisting rural and village people with their problems pertaining to agriculture, home-making, and 4-H training. Demands are ever-increasing on the Extension Service to organize, administer and teach programs of national, state, county, and town importance. In view of the present crisis, programs of work are being organized so that every effort will be directed towards informing the farm people of the ever-changing developments in agriculture, and to assist them with their problems during these critical times.

The agricultural department is organized primarily on a commodity basis, working with commodity committees, associations and groups of farm people. Major agricultural enterprises are cranberries, dairy, poultry, vegetables and fruit, but many smaller projects are covered such as forestry, general livestock, farm accounts, etc. The agricultural department renders service and receives fine cooperation from such agencies as Agricultural Conservation Program, Farm Security Administration, Surplus Marketing Administration, Farm Credit Administration, and various cooperatives.

The Home Demonstration Department conducted some work in each of the towns of the country during 1941. The major program during the spring and fall was in clothing construction. Emphasis was also made on the care, repair and renovation of clothing.

Over five hundred different women attended nutrition meetings held during the year. More families were helped this past year to plan home gardens and 18 food preservation demonstration working meetings were conducted.

Homemakers were also helped in various ways in the fields of home management, home furnishing, home grounds improvement and recreation.

Four-H Club work is that part of the Agricultural Extension Service which deals with rural youth. Young people between the ages of 10 and 21 in a community organize themselves into a group with their own officers and own local program with the guidance of an adult man or woman leader (who serves voluntarily). Each member has an individual project centering around a problem of the home or the farm. They raise livestock, crops, make clothing, prepare foods, etc. They serve as officers and on committees of their own club. They have camps, games, songs, exhibits, tours, hikes, and social meetings. They work and play together. They learn to cooperate by cooperating.

The financial assistance and moral support of East Bridgewater is greatly appreciated by the people the Extension Service assists. A continuation of its support is justified on the record it has achieved. Its influence can not be measured by monetary values, but its educational programs and individual assistance constitutes one measure in the first line of national defense.

Town Director.

Report of the Allen School Building Committee

The report of the School Survey Committee was made at a town meeting held on May 28, 1941 and the report of the committee was accepted and the committee discharged.

Articles in the warrant based on the report of the committee were acted upon and an appropriation of $12,000.00 was made for a two room addition, and an appropriation of $2,000.00 was made for alterations needed to complete the building program.

A building committee was appointed by vote of the meeting which authorized the Moderator to appoint members to this committee.

The committee immediately organized and called in three architects for a conference on proposed plans for the addition to the building. The committee selected William G. Upham of Norwood as the architect and he was directed to prepare a plan for the proposed work.

Several conferences were held with Mr. Upham and one of his plans for the addition was selected as the most desirable, and he was instructed to prepare plans and specifications, in order that bids might be sought on the construction of the addition.

As the work of the architect in planning the addition progressed, it was discovered that in his opinion the building was in an unsafe condition, due to a slight spreading. This condition caused the committee to seek further information from the town.

An examination of the structural condition of the building was made by the J. R. Worcester Company, recommended as experts in this line. Their reports indicated that the building had developed a serious spread, and that before any work, even construction was started, that shoring should be placed in the building to make it safe.

The information on the condition of the building was communicated to the school committee and the suggestion made by the building committee that it was considered advisable that any work done to strengthen the building should be done under the supervision of the school committee.

Conferences of the two committees were held with the finance committee and it was decided that in order to open the school in the fall of 1941 that the recommended work be done. At a special town meeting on Sept. 4th, 1941, an appropriation of $1,000.00 was provided, and a further appropriation made of $750.00 at a town meeting on Sept. 17th, 1941.

The school committee then had the work of shoring the building done by contract. The work was done according to a plan prepared by the J. R. Worcester Company.

At the town meeting of Sept. 4, 1941, a vote was passed by unanimous vote, which expressed the opinion that the building committee should not consider further plans for an addition to the Allen School building, and that the committee should consider plans for a new elementary school building, and report at some future special meeting or at the annual town meeting in 1942.

The committee made some studies of the type and design of a new elementary school building which it had considered to recommend to the town with information on the costs. Since this study was started the outbreak of the war, which now involves the United States, with shortages of certain building materials, priorities, and other handicaps, as well as government regulations curtailing building, the committee recommends that the need for the building exists, and that while serious overcrowding exists, the school committee will attempt to solve this problem during the emergency, and when conditions return to normal, the building committee recommends that consideration be given to the erection of a new elementary school building.

Members of the committee appointed by the Moderator were John B. Thorndike, chairman of the school committee; John H. Gotschall, Superintendent of Schools; Michael J. McCarthy, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen; Blair B. Taylor, Robert Inglee, Selectman Edmund W. Nutter and Edna L. Whitmore. Robert Inglee was unable to serve. Blair B. Taylor served on the committee until September when he moved from town. Dr. Alton L. Hurlburt was appointed a member of the committee.

Librarian's Report

To the Board of Trustees of the East Bridgewater
Public Library:

I submit herewith a report of the work of the Library for the year ending December 31, 1941.

That the reading habits of America have been changed during the past year goes without saying. It is interesting to see how closely we in our small community follow the trends of other American libraries. During the first part of the year, books and periodicals relating to the war seemed altogether too slow, only the radio with its "up to the minute" news could possibly satisfy. As the year went on, however, the desire to know what is behind the news, and the tendency to discount much that came over the radio, directed many people to books dealing with the background of the war and the history of individual countries involved.

Our resources have been strained to the utmost in the field of technical books. Books on aviation, engineering, machine shop practice and other allied subjects have been in constant demand. We have borrowed whenever possible, but as other libraries faced a similar demand, we have had to buy many of these expensive books. The circulation clearly reflects the result of these purchases, since the reading of history and science has more than doubled.

Due to more employment many adult readers curtailed their reading during the year. The reading of the young people, however, showed a striking increase. Children have flocked to the library more than ever before, not only for books to take home, but also to enjoy the comfortable rooms in which to read, to listen to story-telling, and to study.

The different holidays have been observed by exhibitions and book displays, culminating in the annual book week activities in November. The Library sent deposit collections to the schools to be used as class-room libraries. Instruction in the use of library reference books has been given to many classes from the schools and splendid co-operation with the schools exists in other respects.

An undertaking of considerable value was started in the fall when we began to recatalog and reclassify the entire collection of non-fiction. The Library has been inadequately cataloged for a long time. Students and general public alike have found the card catalog of little use. Teachers trained to use the universal Dewey decimal system could not find books cataloged in an alphabet system. It proved to be wasted effort to train people in the use of the alphabet system since they could not apply this knowledge outside of town. Pupils who went to other schools or college returned to regret their inability to use the card catalogs in other libraries.

The recataloging of the library was to be done as a W. P. A. project, but when W. P. A. funds were directed to defense work, this type of project was eliminated. The work was then undertaken by the library staff. This means long hours and hard work for all the staff members. Four high school girls, working under the N.Y.A. give part-time help.

When this work is completed, ten years of effort toward library standardization will be achieved. If at times the town has felt itself in the position of the parent who wants Johnny to grow but winces when new clothes must be bought, the Library, like Johnny, is proud to be emerging to full growth. During these years the Library has extended its hours open each week from 15 to 49, and its days open each week from 3 to 6; it no longer closes its doors for a summer vacation. The charging system has been changed from the obsolete Brown system to the Newark system. The Toronto system of book mending has been adopted, and books that were mutilated by awl and stitch mending were carefully taken apart and correctly mended. Thousands of unsightly paper labels have been removed from the backs of the books, and the books re-stained and lacquered. The entire collection of books in the library has been re-arranged according to classification, and all shelves are open to the public. All of this work has been done behind the scenes or in hours when the library was not open for the circulation of books.

It was not until these steps toward library standardization were taken that work with the schools could begin. The most noteworthy library development has been this work with the school children. Here in the Junior room and the Herrick room these young people learn the rules of conduct acceptable in a library, learn how to use a library, and learn a lasting appreciation for their own library.

Several building improvements have been made during the year. A pamphlet file has been added to the adult library and chairs have been bought for the Junior room. The installation of bronze rails at the main entrance was a much needed improvement.

We are deeply appreciative of the many gifts to the Library. Books, periodicals, pamphlets, clippings, pictures and flowers have been gladly received.

The librarian and members of the library staff have attended the usual professional meetings. The librarian expresses for the staff, and for herself, grateful appreciation to the Trustees for their friendly understanding and support.

Respectfully submitted,

ETHEL B. CHANDLER,

Librarian.

Report of the School Committee

To the Inhabitants of the Town of East Bridgewater:

Mental power is the stuff upon which our country was founded, nurtured, and developed. While it is true that in its growth great physical prowess and endurance were required of its people, it was successful thinking by the leaders and the ranks which was the magic touch setting our nation apart from the others. Were it not for the ability of the mind to direct bodily energy courageously and advantageously toward the ideals since proved correct, our country would certainly have foundered in waste and confusion. Were the country not so dedicated to the end that free thinking should not be hindered but encouraged and that its people should seek and know the truth and hence be free, it would not have drawn unto itself the throngs from older nations, the immigrants blest with the belief that the pursuit of happiness lay in such ideals.

It is to our glory that with the growth of our country the greatest system of free education in history developed and progressed in fair times and foul, through war and peace, through prosperity and depression, strengthening the abilities and moral timbre of the people. By means of that system of education we have not only inculcated those ideals upon which the country was founded and for which its people have bled and died, but also we have made accessible to all the tools and the will to apply and protect them.

It is not smugness when an American boasts of his blessings of liberty, for he is anxious to share them with all comers, and yet will not force them on others though liberty be as a religion to him. In boasting he but expresses gratitude to his forebears of motley racial strains who through steadfastness of purpose and rare sacrifice made possible his way of life. Most present day Americans, at least until Pearl Harbor, are merely fortunate in reaping what was sown and are prone to neglect to sow that their children may reap as well.

Now war is upon us, such a war as was never even dreamt, except in the twisted minds of the corrupt. In such times, be they months, years, or centuries, through blood, sweat and tears, through chaos and recriminations, it behooves us, the heirs of the eternal Christian truth, to be worthy of our heritage of Freedom and Liberty which are but the love of fellow man. It is for us to preserve for all time the light of such principles so that when needed and sought after, it may spread over the weary World. This light of truth and the will to seek it we can not preserve except by passing it on in the hearts and minds of our children. If we endeavor to augment it by force, it is lost. The best we can do with it is say, "Come! We have found the truth; the truth has made us free. Let us show you the paths that lead to it and prepare you for the way." This as much to our children as to other nations.

The more obvious preparations for war needs are physical strength, mechanical skill, mental alertness, exact knowledge and information, and faith. These in no small measure your School Committee provide and encourage, but all these will avail our country nothing if the possessor of such attributes also lacks the ability or the inclination to seek and find for himself through a trained mind, and thus cherish, the truths which make men free.

Let us not lose sight of the forest for the trees. Though other programs and demands may now be accenuated and magnified, please, may we realize that we may win the war and a hollow victory if in the effort we neglect to maintain by means of our schools the ideals which it is our duty and privilege to pass on to our succeeding generations.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the School Committee of East Bridgewater:

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am pleased to submit my fourth annual report for your consideration. The schools have enjoyed their usual success during a year that has been crowded with shocking events which have taken place throughout the world.

COMMITTEE

At the annual organization meeting held in March, Mr. John B. Thorndike was elected Chairman; Mr. A. J. Bradford Alexander, Secretary; and Mrs. Anna M. Bannerman, Treasurer.

FACULTY CHANGES

During the year the following teacher changes were made: Mrs. E. Isabelle Bartlett retired from her position as Principal and teacher of primary grades at the West School. She had taught in the town for the past thirty-two years and is justly deserving of a long, pleasant retirement. Her teaching position was filled by the election of Mrs. Lou-anna D. Kenneally, who attended Hyannis Normal School and had five years of teaching experience. Mr. John M. Matyosaitis resigned his position as shop teacher to accept a more lucrative position in Braintree, as did Miss D. Roberta Walkey our domestic science teacher. We were very sorry to lose these two excellent teachers. Mr. Ralph M. Pearson of Norfolk, Massachusetts, a graduate of Fitchburg Teachers College last June, was elected to teach shop this year, and Miss Dorothea F. Smalley of Worcester, Massachusetts, a graduate of Massachusetts State College in 1940, was elected to teach domestic science. Miss Smalley taught at the Worcester Trade School for Girls last year. Mrs. Ruth P. Kitchin resigned from her position as Supervisor of art in order that she could have more time to enjoy married life. She was a popular supervisor and everyone was sorry to learn of her decision. Her position was filled by the election of Miss P. Evelyn Erickson who trained at the Massachusetts School of Art, has taught in private school, and has been working as a commercial artist. Mr. James W. Anderson, Supervisor of Music, resigned to accept a similar position in Winthrop at a much higher salary. This was the second position he had been offered, and this increase in salary was too great for us to meet. We all wish him success in his new position. Mr. Robert A. Spencer, a graduate of Baldwin-Wallace College was elected Music Supervisor. He has had nine years' experience in music, the last five of which were as an instructor at the University of Connecticut. Because of the increased enrollment at the Allen School, an additional teacher was needed to serve as an assistant in grade two. Miss Marjorie F. Russell, a graduate of Bridgewater Teachers College, was elected to this position. We are always happy and sorry because of the loss of our excellent teachers. We like to know that they are able to progress in their chosen profession, and we dislike the thought of having to replace such teachers year after year. We are all of the opinion that we would rather employ the best we can find, even if it is likely to mean that they will not remain in our system for too long a time.

COURSE OFFERINGS

Our shop program has been extended this year to where we are now offering five classes in this subject with a class available for grade seven and one for grade eight. Any boy in the top four grades may elect this subject if he so desires. The program will be discussed at some length by the report of the shop supervisor.

The domestic science program was extended this year so that we now offer six classes—one for each of the six grades at the Senior-Junior High School. In order to make this program possible, it was necessary to assign the seventh grade class to Miss Eleanor M. Holmes, who has prepared to teach the subject by taking extension courses at Brockton. For further information regarding the work of this department, your attention is directed to the report of the domestic science supervisor.

All the other extensions which have been made to our program of studies in the past two years have been continued this year, and it is a pleasure to report that all of those new courses are working out to the satisfaction of everyone. The added year of typewriting is increasing the speed of our typewriting students to the point where they should be able to take typing positions. The course in economics for senior students in the general course is continuing to serve very effectively. Our guidance program has developed until our students are now receiving direction regarding their social behavior, their educational work, and their selection and obtaining suitable employment.

Our continued aim is that of providing the type of education that will serve the children of the town to best advantage. Comparatively few pupils need to prepare for college entrance, but these students must continue receiving this training in our schools. Another group of young people want to prepare for positions in offices, industry, homes, etc., and we must do our best to meet their needs. Others have not decided on what they want to do and must be given enough exploratory courses to provide opportunities for selection. We are of the opinion that it is possible to offer a satisfactory program of this magnitude in schools like ours.

SCHOLARSHIP

Achievement examinations that are given throughout the nation have been given in our schools for the last four years and each year the results have shown an improvement in our scholastic accomplishments. We still rank slightly below the national norm, but not enough to be of any serious consequence. Our net loss is now nine months which represents only slightly more than an average of one month per grade. Our elementary schools did not all open at the same time in September and for that reason the bi-monthly examinations are being omitted this year.

HOME STUDY

My opinion regarding home study does not change from year to year. Mere attendance at school, occupying a desk, and playing with other children at recess time has never appeared to me to be any guarantee that a child was obtaining a complete education. Starting with the sixth grade, every student should have some homework to do. Parents often tell me that their children say they have no homework because they prepare their lessons in study periods at school. This is an erroneous statement by the child. Unless the child is getting "A" in all subjects, the parent should not accept such a statement. The child may partially prepare the work in study periods, but the work cannot be more than half prepared in this time. We notice that most of our students are taking books home, but we can only hope that the books are studied. Books left on the library table at home serve little purpose in the educative process.

More depends upon the kind of study than on the amount of time spent. If home study goes on where the attention is interrupted by conversation, telephone, radio, and other distractions, the results cannot be other than unsatisfactory. We would like to suggest to all parents that they provide a proper place for their children to do this home study. Have it a quiet place, properly heated and lighted, and insist that the children have a regular time set aside for their work. A number of good students, who come from homes where it is difficult to study in the evening, have asked permission to remain at school after our daily session has closed in order that they may have a good, quiet place to study. We would be glad to extend this privilege to any student desiring it. A suggested schedule indicating the amount of time that we would like to have spent in conscientious home study on every school days is as follows: Grade six, 45 minutes; Grades seven and eight, 60 minutes; Grades nine through twelve, 90 minutes, but those students preparing for college in these latter grades average 120 minutes in home study.

EXHIBITS

In May a general school exhibit was held at the high school auditorium where the primary aim was to show the type of work being done in the various subjects throughout all the schools. The audience was the largest and most enthusiastic of any that has attended any type of exhibit for years. The entire school department felt the meeting so valuable that a similar display will be presented again this spring.

Special days and evenings were set aside in November for parents to visit classes and confer with the teachers. These sessions were very well attended especially in the lower grades. We would like to have more parents of high school students come to visit us. When one parent was given a personal invitation to attend, the reply was to the effect that he had no fault to find and that he didn't think it was necessary for him to come. We, the school teachers, like to see some jovial faces among our guests, and I think it would be time well spent for everyone to keep in touch with the greatest business the town operates. We won't think you are "busy-bodies" just because you visit us.

In December a teachers' meeting was held which was open to the public. President Gordon Reynolds of the Massachusetts School of Art discussed the place of Creative Art in public schools. The meeting appeared to be of interest to a large audience which attended. A number of teachers from surrounding towns accepted the invitation to attend the meeting.

NATIONAL EMERGENCY

The schools are now having to face new problems because of this country being engaged in war. This is the first time in the history of this nation that school teachers have had to make preparations for the care of children during a possible air raid. We hope that we shall never need to rely on our preparations, but we cannot afford to be guilty of neglecting to do those things which might protect life and property. Our schools are being equipped with safety devices and our children are being drilled according to the best regulations available. The teachers and janitors are being instructed in the proper use of the materials recommended. A set of instructions has been drawn up which is intended for use by children, teachers, janitors, and parents.

It is a problem to know what, if any, changes should be made in our teaching material or methods during this emergency. Since we are unable to do much teaching that will serve as direct preparation for employment in skilled or semi-skilled positions, it appears that our best efforts can be expended in attempting to do our regular jobs with all the ability at our command. We have the responsibility of keeping and furthering the democratic system under which we have enjoyed so much liberty. I think the American schools can be thanked for many of our blessings, and I have faith that the future of our country will be safe in the hands of the generation which has recently attended our public schools.

SCHOOL PROPERTY AND HOUSING

During the summer vacation, another section of the brick work on the addition at the high school was water-proofed by cutting out the mortar to a three-quarter inch depth and then repointing the brickwork. It does not appear necessary to do any more of this work in the near future because the remaining section is not leaking to any great extent. The repair bill for the High, Elmwood, and West Schools should be small during the coming year, and the extent of the repairs which should be made at the Allen School depends upon the long-term policy adopted. In May the town voted to build a two room addition on at the Allen School, and a building committee was appointed to have the work performed. An architect was appointed and instructed to prepare plans for the addition. In July, he informed the building committee that the Allen School was not sound structurally and that considerable repairs should be made on it before an addition was made. At a subsequent town meeting, the building committee was instructed to discontinue plans for building the addition, and to obtain information regarding the erection of a new building. The school committee was appropriated a sum of money to make repairs at the Allen School before it was to be permitted to open for the fall term of schools. This work was done by T. F. Crowell & Sons at a total cost of $1,745.00 and the opening of the school was delayed two weeks. Since the town has instructed the building committee to work on the problem of building a new twelve room school, I recommend that the Allen School repairs be limited to those which are essential from time to time.

Our housing problem at the Allen School is very serious. We are now having one class for small children in an open corridor and cloak room with furniture that is not at all suited for the purpose. A small section is also meeting in the office which is intended for the principal. When one more large class will enter the first grade in September of 1942, it will be almost impossible to house the pupils in the building.

FINANCES

The schools are continuing with costs which are somewhat lower than state averages for towns which correspond in size and type of school system. The State Department of Education issues an annual report which shows the expenditures of each town, and from these it is possible to arrive at comparative costs. In the following table showing our standing, the figures refer to costs in dollars per child per year:

	Town	State
General Control	$3.56	$4.36
Teachers' Salaries	51.10	53.45
Textbooks and Supplies	4.26	4.43
Janitors' Services, Fuel and Miscellaneous Expense	11.05	11.43
Repairs	3.03	2.49
Health	1.98	1.55
Transportation	8.73	10.14
Tuition	.33	.06
Total	84.05	88.56

While it is true that the costs of operating our school department has increased during the past year, we can reasonably expect that other departments have had to meet the same problems. Since we are using the schools for defense instruction, two or three evenings each week, we must expect that our costs of operation will be increased substantially. The item of teachers' salaries has shown a great difference from state averages during past years. The policy of the local school committee has been that of arranging our salary program so that it comes nearer to comparing with that of other towns our size.

The report of the school committee treasurer shows our total expenditures to be $64,305.43. The town received the following reimbursements during the year because of schools:

Rental of School Auditorium	$30.00
Refunded to School Account	239.39
Reimbursement on Tuition to Industrial Schools	143.20
Reimbursement on Tuition to Schools for Alien Education	15.00
State Reimbursement under Part I	5,480.00
Tuition of State Wards	1,129.75
Tuition of City of Boston Wards	1,053.34
Total	<hr/> $8,090.68

The net cost of the schools was $56,214.75.

CONCLUSION

In past years it has been my practice to submit excerpts from the reports of the various supervisors as a part of my report. This year, those reports are being submitted in their entirety with a separate heading for each. I invite your attention to them because they contain much information about the work being undertaken by the various departments.

Again I wish to thank the teachers and pupils for their cooperation in conducting every enterprise connected with our schools. A willing group of pupils and an energetic teaching staff are the best indications of a capable school system. It has been a pleasure to work with all my associates. The parents have shown us a willingness to cooperate in the settling of any problems that have arisen. We, the teachers, are anxious to see every school child progress normally in school. Finally, I wish to thank you members of the committee for your consideration of every matter pertaining to the schools.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. GOTSCHALL,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF VICE-PRINCIPAL

Dear Mr. Gotschall:

May I submit the following report on High School Activities:

STUDENT'S PEN

The Student's Pen has had the winning habit for so long that it is not news to state that it has again been awarded the prize for being the best Class B publication in south-eastern Massachusetts. This is the ninth consecutive year the publication has won this award. The Senior issue of last spring was judged the third best yearbook to be published, although we do not consider it as a yearbook at all.

ORATORY

During the year a number of our students participated in oratorical contests of various types. Leon Webber represented the school in the American Legion Oratorical Contest of the State; Lesandra Hawes succeeded in entering the state finals in the national Forensic League contest; and Azad Maranjian won third prize in the Tri-town Legion Essay Contest.

The class of 1941 presented one of the best plays of recent years under the capable direction of Miss Katharine L. Morehardt. The intermediate grades of the Elmwood School presented an operetta for the benefit of the high school band and raised a good sum of money. The band members are grateful to the Elmwood teachers and pupils for their work. Two minstrel shows were presented during the year and both were unusually successful. Mr. Emery S. Loud and his casts are very worthy of praise for their fine work.

ATHLETICS

For many years the Athletic Teams of the East Bridge-water School System have more than "held their own" with their opponents in respect to games won and lost!

It is not, however, the primary interest or purpose of our Athletic Department to win as much as possible regardless, but rather to develop character and physical stamina. As many of us can attest, some of our defeats have done more for us than have our victories. "One who always wins often finds that he is lacking when a real test of character confronts him."

We have for a number of years been quite successful in sports such as Boys' Basketball and Baseball.

Our Varsity sports for girls have not fared so well, but we expect that by gradual development, sports for girls in East Bridgewater will attain a more satisfactory level. This will largely depend of course, not only on the interest of the faculty but on the sustained interest of the girls.

An intramural program of sports has been organized throughout our school system, where feasible, so that for example, in the grade schools where no gymnasiums are available, interclass baseball is regularly carried on during the season. In the Senior-Junior High School, starting with the seventh grade, Intramural Basketball is organized and played throughout the winter. In this way we have attempted to give those who are interested in sports a chance to participate even though they may not be capable of playing on a Varsity team in the future.

The development of character and physical stamina certainly cannot begin too soon in the life of an individual!

Let us emphasize that we are reasonably proud of the various successes that have been won by our Athletic teams and intend to continue our efforts to do well.

Remember, that in the long run, it is not the number of games that a school wins that is of the greatest importance, but rather what the individuals composing the teams acquire in character!

VISUAL EDUCATION

During the past several years Visual Education has been carried on in the East Bridgewater School System. We have available at the present time a very efficient sound movie projector which gives us excellent facilities as far as equipment is concerned.

According to many authorities the correct use of the moving picture is, "The most powerful educational implement ever developed by man." More and more we notice in our clubs, our churches and organizations in general that moving pictures are used to emphasize and illustrate some subject which is considered of vital importance.

Mere words are not always enough to impress sufficiently, because the individual human mind does not always picture things as they actually are, but often quite differently.

In order for Visual Education to be effective, it is necessary for the teacher to make a conscientious effort to choose his films carefully, preview them where ever possible and correlate the film and the subject matter relative to his classes.

In the East Bridgewater School System those teachers who use moving pictures in the classroom use them not for the purposes of entertainment, but as an important addition to other methods of instruction.

As time passes, Visual Education may play even a more important part in education. At present our school system is one of the leaders in Visual Education in contrast to many towns of corresponding size.

We hope and expect that this comparatively new and valuable method of classroom instruction will continue and expand to even greater usefulness.

That we learn by doing has long been an accepted fact; that we learn by seeing is more and more being realized as a fact!

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD H. MOORHOUSE,
Vice-Principal.

REPORT OF MUSIC SUPERVISOR

Dear Mr. Gotschall:

In making the annual report on the music instruction and music activities in the East Bridgewater schools for the year 1941, it is my intention to outline the situation as I found it upon assuming the duties of the supervisorship late in the fiscal year, rather than to attempt to report upon present accomplishments after so brief a span of service. In doing this it is my plan to stress three main issues: (1) the evidence of quality and completeness in the vocal and theoretical instruction throughout all levels; (2) the musical achievement of the year 1941; and (3) recommendations or suggestions for improving and enriching the students' musical experience, and plans already in the formative stages for bringing about these desirable adjustments.

In the first place a well organized program of music instruction is already in operation in the three grade schools. The singing shows fine attention to tonal beauty and a fair understanding of the technical content on each grade level. A noteworthy achievement in the production by the Elmwood School of the operetta last spring struck a high note in the experience of the children of that building.

The Girls' Glee Club, the High School Band, and small groups presented their semi-annual concert in the month of April, and rendered a fairly ambitious program. Opportunity for solo performance by individuals provided very valuable experience for those taking part. On a few occasions the Junior and the Assembly Bands each performed in conjunction with programs produced by other departments of the school. The commencement program, shown elsewhere on these pages, contained musical selections by both Glee Clubs, the Assembly Band, and by graduating soloists.

The Senior Band marched in the Armistice Day parade at West Bridgewater this fall, their first appearance of the fall term. Also, a group of eleven band players appeared on a half-hour radio broadcast over Boston station WEEI, and at the request of the State Department of Education which sponsored the broadcast. And at Christmas time a brass quintet performed carols as a traditional seasonal feature in each of the town's four schools on the last day before the holidays.

The excellent rating awarded the Senior Band which participated in the Eastern Massachusetts Festival and the New England Festival last spring gave that organization another to add to its previous similar successes. The generous cooperation of teachers, parents, and administration in making possible the attendance at these festivals contributed much to make these occasions memorable for all who participated. And finally that success gave proof of the adequacy of the program of class instruction on instruments at the School on Saturday mornings, and of the Junior Bands from which most of the Senior Band members have graduated from time to time.

One very noticeable deficiency in the music program was the almost entire lack of equipment for teaching Music Appreciation in the grades. Steps have already been taken to supply this want, and appropriations for the purchase of a set of recordings have been located. In the course of a short time this work should be fully introduced and a definite outline arranged for all grade levels. Already some of this material has been introduced into the Junior High classes.

Another situation concerning the high school vocal program still confronts us. With the very limited time at the disposal of the supervisor—three and one-half days per week—the question arises as to the best disposal of that part of it available for this phase of his work. At present two glee clubs, a boys' and a girls', are maintained. The membership is open to all students who express the wish to sing together, regardless of their ability to produce a pleasing tone or even to read music parts. They should have some such opportunity, and it should instil a love for music through the ensemble experience. However, those students of superior ability and achievement, singing in this group, and actually the main support of the club, are compelled to sing a grade of music beneath their level of ability, to rehearse over and over again the portions which the others need drill on, and to them is laborious and uninteresting in the extreme. To them the repertory soon loses its challenge, and this extra ability they possess is wasted for lack of an outlet. In addition to this vocal program of two clubs is needed another organization which utilizes only the superior talent. With such a group outstanding results could be achieved which, under the present setup, cannot even be dreamed of. The proportion of good voices is at present much greater in the Girls' club than in the Boys'. I feel that this group of students, the musical elite, is the group which deserves the finest program the school can offer for the further development of their talent. They can do things and should be doing things. The instrumental program provides for these people, but, as yet, the vocal does not.

Under the existing plan, Harmony is an extra activity for which credit is given for its one hour class weekly. Normally this is elected by a very small proportion of any student enrollment. To achieve with high school students in the course of a year what regularly constitutes "First Year High School Harmony", many schools find it necessary to schedule the class once each day throughout the year. Under our present plan, if these people could retain all they learn through the lapse of a week between classes, they can expect through a year to learn about one-fifth of a standard high school Harmony course! As you well know, your supervisor of music has a strong leaning toward the subject, and is anxious for all students so desiring to obtain a good background in the subject. But what can be accomplished in this amount of time is rather limited.

What may be said for Harmony goes in part for the Junior High classes which meet but once weekly. Ideally these people should be met twice weekly. Other nearby schools do so.

The State Supervisor of Music asks that units of work which correlate music with geography, art, literature, etc., be included in the instruction work, particularly in Junior and Senior High Schools. It is the hope of the music teacher that in the not too distant future, and in conjunction with the Music Appreciation program it will be found possible to do this. In the Junior High this would draw expensively on available time for the singing program.

Special time in the grade schools should be given the "so-called" monotones who have never learned to sing on pitch accurately. These are usually eliminated in the first two, or at most, three years. Several in the intermediate grades are still having that difficulty. They and those in the earlier years need more attention than their room teacher can give them or than the supervisor can give them in his regular visits. They lower the group singing results very markedly. This cannot be improved until their singing is corrected where that is possible. Very few of them are incurable, and most will respond with this additional instruction.

The music books of several grades are already or soon will be in need of replacement. The teachers are being asked for their opinions concerning the permanent adoption of one series or another as a future program for this replacement. When their opinions are all available the supervisor will be ready to make recommendations for commencing this program with the room most in need of new song books.

And finally, numerous advantages have been found by many high schools in accrediting the outside private study of music toward graduation for pupils in the tenth grade or above. Some schools accept only violin, piano, or voice, but more will recognize and honor study done on any of the standard orchestral or band instruments as well. This has been found to benefit in these ways: the practice of music does not become an "after-thought" in the students' daily study program, but it takes its place alongside the other courses in its importance in the child's development. So often in the high schools students discontinue regular lessons after having achieved a working knowledge of their instruments. This insures continued progress throughout the high school course. The instrumental program benefits by this advanced level of individual proficiency. Often the students can find remunerative music work as a result. The teaching of the private music teachers can be made to attain certain standards when their names appear on the high school's approved list. All-in-all this cooperation between school and private teacher has been found highly beneficial to all three parties concerned. I recommend some such plan be considered at East Bridgewater.

With this, and with full appreciation for the splendid cooperation of school board, administration, faculty, and parents in the music program of the East Bridgewater schools, I close this annual report.

Very sincerely,

ROBERT A. SPENCER,
Music Supervisor.

REPORT OF ART SUPERVISOR

Dear Mr. Gotschall:

May I submit the following report of the Art Department:

The report of the art department for the first half of this school year could easily stretch into a volume, for it should rightly contain our aims and aspirations as well as an account of some of the enormous strides which have been already made in spite of the very short time since this new method, which we are calling creative art, has been introduced in East Bridgewater. Creative it is, surely, and art, also, but what we are actually doing is to assist our children to develop latent capacities which they have, to draw out the ones they have quite strongly, and to balance their strong talents by encouraging the ones they have less abundantly. Only a few words about these may be sketched in here. Since it isn't possible to go into the fundamental principles in the nature of a child in so short a time, I will confine myself rather to mentioning a few of the advantages of teaching in this method.

Art has for many years been taught under the assumption that children see a thing only when we put it on paper for them, and that they observed only in the classroom. If we look more deeply into the nature of a child, we will see that the younger children especially are making constant observations and inner impressions of the world. It is this rich inner life which we want to foster. It goes without saying that it is those in every walk of life who have the riches and experience of the world who are able to accomplish the most in their field. There are, however, children who have the tendency to go through life seeing and hearing very little of what goes on about them. There is nothing like letting them paint a picture of the landscape which they walk through on the way to school to discover which ones must be helped to overcome this. Or let them paint a picture of a story which is told them to see what poverty-stricken or what rich experiences they have from the things told to them. The same story will awaken deep feelings in one child which shows in what he paints, while another will have remained almost indifferent to it. We must help the latter to overcome his dullness or apathy which keep him from gaining a certain amount of knowledge of the rest of the world. The necessity for awakening a vital interest in such children places on us as teachers the responsibility of giving the material in such a vital and interesting way that the children absorb it with all their hearts. The importance of developing visualization and visual memory in children has been underestimated or entirely ignored for many years. Visualization is not merely something which an artist needs. An inventor must be able to visualize something he has never seen before. A scientist also. A teacher above all needs it. An economist should be able to visualize the working out of new ideas for the social structure which he proposes. A president needs to be able to visualize the results of the policies which he follows. In short, people in their every day walks of life should be able to see ahead the results of what they are planning in their daily lives. It is this visualization for one thing which we are developing when we require children to picture something they are told about and then put it down. It is not a question for them of how to draw a thing,—if they see it, it is a very simple matter to put it down.

This only begins to touch the very edge of the far reaching results which come from this way of teaching.

I would like to say here that I have been completely amazed myself at the readiness with which the whole group of children here in East Bridgewater have taken to creative activity when they were given material which allowed them to show what they have in them. I did not at all expect anywhere near such results as we have already had in the few months of work. I would like to cite countless examples of definite marks of progress in the inner development of many of the children but will have to leave it for some other opportune time. And we have already a collection of pictures that any town can be proud of having brought into the world.

I should also say that one of our largest aims is to have handwork, and more and more of it, added to the curriculum. This is being started in a very small way as yet in the lower grades. The difficulties in the way of this aim are many. First, the materials for so many children make an item to reckon with, and again, our rooms are not arranged with the idea of building and making things in them.

Again teaching such large classes as we have individual projects in handwork takes a great deal of time which the period doesn't contain. I should like very much to give our Junior High people some really good man sized jobs to do.

but I'm afraid we are going to have to give that up for the time being for lack of a place to do it in. But it should be considered for the future for we need more and more to train our children and young people to be able to carry out their ideas into some form suitable for the world. In this way we may hope to bring up our children to say "I can" to whatever problem confronts them in life.

Respectfully submitted,

P. EVELYN ERICKSON,

Art Director.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE

Dear Mr. Gotschall and Members of the School Committee:

I herewith submit the annual report of the school nurse for the year ending December, 1941.

The pupils in the elementary grades were weighed three times. At each weighing, almost without an exception, each individual child showed a substantial gain.

Assistance was given Dr. Bannerman in his annual examination of the children in grades one to eight inclusive, also of the players in intramural basketball. At this time nearly one hundred children were found with tonsil defects. During the summer 25 children were operated upon for the removal of tonsils and adenoids. Three of these children were aided by a fund contributed by the Woman's Club. Nine of these tonsillectomies were children entering school for the first time. These defects were found and correction advised by Dr. F. H. Harris in the annual round-up examination of entering school children, which was conducted by the E. B. P. H. N. Association. In this round-up 75% of children entering school for the first time were examined by Dr. Harris or by their own family physician. All children entering school, except one, were successfully vaccinated.

Dental defects were found by Dr. Fraser in his annual dental examination. The last examination showed that out of 365 children examined, 130 received dental certificates, which indicated that all necessary work was done. During the school year of 1940-41, 119 children made 385 visits to 25 clinics, and the following was accomplished:

Cleanings	114
Temporary Fillings	34
Permanent Fillings	198
Extractions	58

This year clinic will be held once a week for the children in the first three grades.

During January, Dr. Simpson, the State's Traveling Psychiatrist, conducted the annual school clinic for the retarded child. At this clinic 13 children were examined. Several children have attended the Child Guidance Clinic at Brockton.

The annual audiometer examination was given to pupils in grades five and ten, also to old defectives and to all new children in town. This test was made possible through the courtesy of the Plymouth County Health Association. As a result of tests and re-tests, 22 pupils were found with a hearing loss.

Miss Harriet Gibson, a lip reader instructor of Brockton, conducted classes for four hard of hearing pupils. This was Miss Gibson's fourth year in the schools and a great deal of help has been given these handicapped students.

During the Winter, Spring and Fall, records show 20 cases of chicken pox, 19 cases of measles, 38 cases of german measles, 7 cases of mumps, 4 cases of scarlet fever, and 10 cases of whooping cough. During January and February there was a tremendous amount of grippe.

During April, May and June the local board of health conducted the annual diphtheria prevention clinic for school and pre-school children. At that time 21 school and 67 pre-school were given the immunization treatments.

During the year, 163 ill children were carried home, 25 children referred to Dr. Bannerman, 453 homes were visited and 385 school visits were made. Special attention including first aid treatments were given to 2450 children.

Several nursing procedures were demonstrated to the Home Nursing class. The Standard course in First Aid was given to a group of teachers, also to a group of Senior girls. Interest in the Blue Cross hospitalization plan resulted in obtaining 25 teachers for membership.

Many out of town meetings and conferences were attended. Much help and assistance was gained by the meeting.

Class room talks, to the children, conferences with the teachers, and assistance in obtaining Health material were given. The success of the Health Teaching Program in any school must come from the class room teacher who should, by correlation and teaching, make Health so attractive to her pupils that they will unconsciously become health-minded. During the present crisis, Health, in all its phases cannot be over-emphasized. To help meet this emergency, I believe, assistance could be given the teachers by outlining a definite, progressive course of Health study and by allotting specific time for Health teaching in the daily program.

In closing this report I wish to express my appreciation of cooperation received from the superintendent, the teachers, the parents, and the children of East Bridgewater.

Respectfully submitted,

RUTH G. EVANS, R.N.,
School Nurse.

REPORT OF GUIDANCE SUPERVISOR

Dear Mr. Gotschall:

May I submit the following Guidance Program report.

The year 1941 to the guidance department was a year of unusual opportunity and no small amount of accomplishment. While we are still too close to the past year's activities to properly evaluate them objectively, it is apparent that unusual strides have been made in the development of a more practical guidance course. This favorable situation is due to the valuable experiences gained in the past few years in the actual guidance work. The guidance department has extended its activities so that there is close cooperation with the guidance program and outside educational institutions, business organizations, and state and federal agencies. As we look forward to another year, we can truly say of 1941 that it has been a year in which we have laid firm foundations.

The guidance department has been used more extensively than ever before by our out-of-school youth, the alumni of the last four years. While much extra time is used for this type of worthwhile activity, yet it is gratifying to us to know in certain instances the chief justification of this service lay in helping the former graduate "think things through"; and the confidence placed in the service by the people using it.

In the school program the guidance work for grades eleven and twelve for the past year was developed along the following lines:

1. Vocational counselling to help the student find out what he can do and how to convince employers he can do it.
2. Related information (the study of the vocation the student is interested in, in relation to the jobs he might get in that field).
3. Occupational Information (textbooks, pamphlets, and speakers describing the requirements and opportunities in the various fields).

Guidance assembly programs throughout the year were presented to the boys and girls of grades nine through twelve by speakers representing various vocations. These speakers are experts in the lines of work they represent.

A few pupils received practice in the technique of successful ways of discovering part time jobs during the Christmas season; locating employers, making contact with employers; preparing for the personal interview; going through the personal interview, etc. In this way the pupil will develop the ability to take care of himself in the important adventure which most of them will go through, not once but probably numerous times. Outside-of-school time was necessary for this particular activity.

Arrangements were made for several male graduates to take a complete vocational testing examination with the testing director of the Massachusetts Employment Commission. We were thus able to place a few in either defense training schools or in defense jobs.

Two good college scholarships were secured for 1941 graduates by the guidance department.

There were forty-three graduates in the class of 1941. Of this number, two have joined the United States Marines, three girl graduates are now married, thirteen are continuing their education as full-time students, one has returned for a post graduate course at the High School, one is at home, twenty-three are employed full-time.

It is gratifying to know that among the full-time gainfully employed graduates there are several who are continuing their education through evening courses. In my opinion this speaks well for the situation in East Bridgewater.

Respectfully submitted,

STANLEY B. GOLDMAN,

Guidance Director.

REPORT ON HOME ECONOMICS

Dear Mr. Gotschall:

I wish to submit my report of the work in the Household Arts Department.

The Massachusetts Department of Education suggests that "worthy home membership" be the dominant aim in Household Arts courses offered in this state. This, indeed, is the prime objective of the courses offered in our school. It is hoped that each unit offered will, in its particular way, contribute to the health, happiness, and well-being of the child; that through the child some of the benefits may be carried to the home and family, as well as to the community.

At present we have eighty-seven girls enrolled in the Household Arts courses in the Senior-Junior High School. We are endeavoring not only to help these girls to learn how to cook and sew, but, rather, to present homemaking in its broadest sense. In order to do this, the six years of study in Household Arts in the school are based on a widely varied program.

In the seventh and eighth grades, Foods and Clothing are presented with emphasis on basic principles. Selection and Preparation of Foods, and Clothing Construction are the basis for study. The aim is to help the child to acquire a basic knowledge of these subjects, and to help her to practice the fundamental skills involved.

In the ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades the program is more diversified. Although the selection and preparation of foods is continued, greater emphasis is placed on planning, nutrition, and marketing. The clothing work is continued in progressive units to include more advanced construction problems. Paralleling this work in clothing construction, courses are also offered in Textiles to help the girls to choose their fabrics, clothing, and home furnishings more wisely. Clothing Selection in its Relation to the Individual, and Good Grooming are important phases of the advanced Clothing work.

But since homemaking does not concern itself with Foods and Clothing alone, a broader program is presented in our school. Consumer Education is presented to help the girls to be "better buyers". Home Decoration is given due consideration. The upper class girls are also offered a course in Home Nursing. This course is a forerunner of the Nursery School which the girls have an opportunity to maintain in their course in Child Care.

All of these courses are based on this six year program which, it is hoped, will prove invaluable to the girls who take them.

Respectfully submitted,

DOROTHEA F. SMALLEY,

Household Arts Director.

REPORT ON SHOP

Dear Mr. Gotschall:

It is a pleasure to present my first annual report as supervisor of Shop work in the East Bridgewater High School.

The school shop, now in its third year of existence, is gradually becoming completed with equipment for a general shop program. Approximately eighty boys are participating in the classes which run five periods each school day of the week. At the beginning of the school year, each boy spends two months in the drafting room. Here the Junior High boys are taught the elements of instrument use and lettering, and the construction of simple three view drawings; and the Senior High boys are allowed to work out isometrics, developments, and transitional pieces. Near the end of the two months, the Senior High boys have an opportunity to work out in a scale drawing, the project which they are to make in the shop.

The shop is equipped with seven woodworking machines, and an adequate number of hand tools, but as yet, lacks suitable benches which are necessary for accurate and well finished work. Wood has been the main working medium but a bit of bench metal, sheet metal and art metal is being attempted. Because of the few metal working tools, this amazingly wide field of most interesting work can only be touched on the surface. Other materials with which we hope to work in the near future, include ceramics, plastics and leathers. Working with these materials and incooperating units in electricity, home mechanics, carpentry and auto mechanics, are all things we would like to do in our shop. That they are beneficial can be of little doubt, especially in these times when America is calling for mechanically minded men, both in industry and in the service.

Respectfully submitted,

RALPH PEARSON,

Supervisor of Shop.
